"For Everything There Is a Season, and

"These are the young years, the fruitful years when time means only the day after tomorrow. These are the years of wistful-eyed beings with tender dreams, but youth is brutal as well as tender, and youth is reality as well as a dream.

A flower blooms and fades and blows away--and blooms again, according to the season; and in like manner youth exists from spring to spring, for to everything there is a season.

Our Administration

Dear Seniors:

It is with a great deal of pleasure that I have the honor of bidding you your final farewell from Charles B. Aycock High School. It is also with a great deal of regret that I do so because your presence at Charles B. Aycock will now become part of its history and the association with you will not be as it has been in the past.

Many times you have expressed a desire to reach this rung in your educational ladder, but now that it has arrived, you know you are not only graduating from a school but into a school; one that will teach you for the remainder of your life. The name of your future school is Society and is also one in which you will become an intimate part.

As you venture down the road of your various vocations and occupations, I hope you will produce to your greatest potential and practice the training you have been exposed to in the past. Set your goals as high as the highest stars in the heavens and pursue each to the greatest extent of your capabilities.

Chairman; Mr. H. B. Bradshaw; Mr.
Otto Hicks; Mr. John Lee Smith

Mrs. Elizabeth O'Berry joined our staff this year as guidance counselor. She worked diligently in solving problems, finding employment, and aiding the seniors in selecting colleges.

Mrs. Annette Sasser was a great asset to the students as well as faculty and served our school well as secretary.

Mrs. Iris Thorne, secretary, was efficient in her work, but she also brightened our day with her pleasant smile and voice.

A Time to Enjoy Autumn's

Members of the 1967 GOVERNOR Staff pause from the daily routine of life to enjoy the Cliffs of the Neuse State Park.

From the crest of the ninety-foot cliffs, one can view the spectacular display of nature's works. Peace, contentment, and hope for mankind are seen in the placid, ever-wandering waters of the Neuse.

Mr. Robert Craft's three years at Aycock have been characterized by dedicated and enthusiastic teaching. As band and choral director, he has devoted many after-school hours to practice and rehearsal, giving freely of his time and energy, to make our Music Department outstanding in this area.

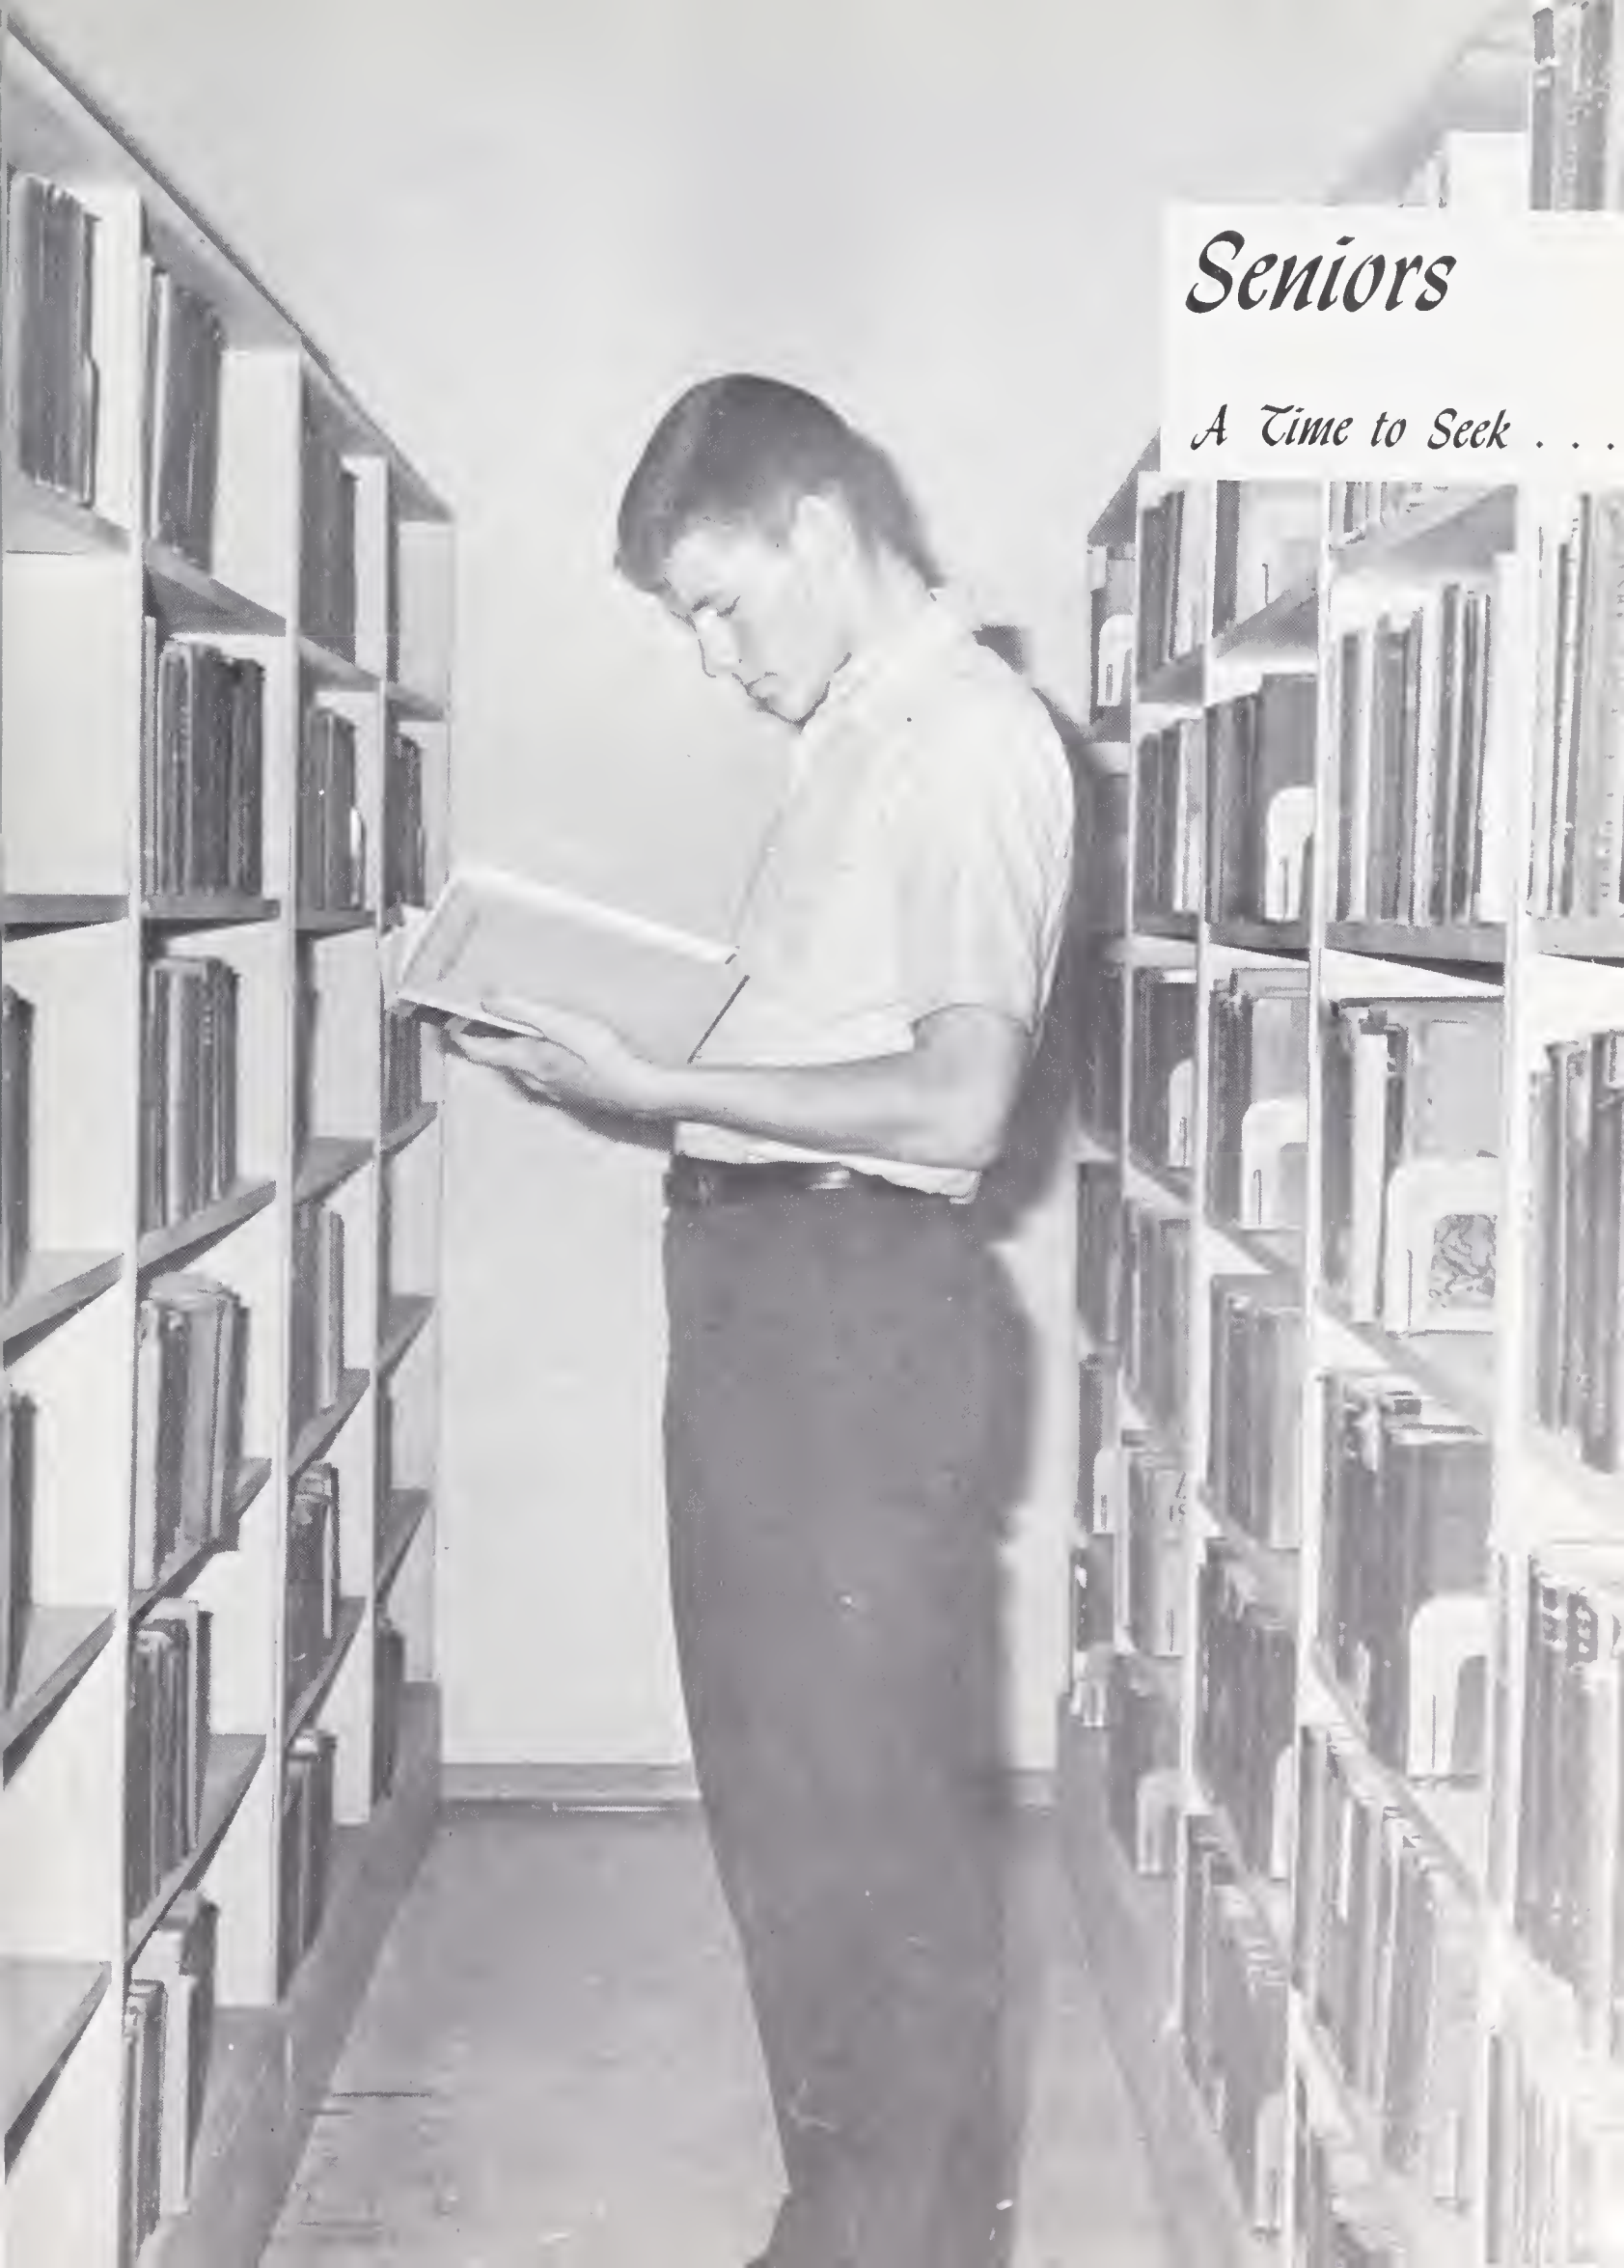

His positive, friendly encouragement has been greatly appreciated by the students who have worked with him.

We are proud to dedicate the 1967 edition of THE GOVERNOR to Mr. Robert W. Craft.

Mrs. Thornton, our librarian.

Students spend much time in the library studying and gathering research material.

Erecting scenery is only one of many tasks in producing a play.

This department had three major projects this year; a three-act play in November, three one-act plays for Spring Festival, and a three act play in May. Speech and Dramatics is taught by Mrs. Sedalia Green and is open to juniors and seniors. Its purpose is to give students an opportunity for public speaking, and to help them develop poise before an audience.

Play practice is fun but also hard work.

A Time And A Purpose For News

Journalism students study papers from other schools to improve THE EDUCATOR.

Mr. Irving Fornecker is head of the Math Department.

Math is very Important to Today's Youth

The Math Department offers many courses. This year many new books arrived, and students and teachers were confronted by the "new math."

Students may choose courses in general math, algebra, geometry, advanced algebra, and business math. The teachers are qualified in helping the students understand how their acquired knowledge may be used in their future occupations.

Students labor diligently while doing constructions in Mr. Fornecker's geometry class.

Sometimes Algebra II requires special attention from Mr. Webber.

Mr. Webber illustrates linear graphing.

Science Department

In the fascinating world of science, changes are being made every day. Students and teachers try to keep up with the changes.

Aycock students can choose courses from general science, biology, chemistry, physical science, and physics, all of which are very interesting and sometimes challenging.

The "wonders of biology" fascinate all - even Jerry and Dickie.

Explanations from the teacher made more sense than reading the words from a book.

This was a class of hard work, and sometimes the physics problems were not understood.

Social Studies Prepare

Courses in Civics, World History, World Geography, U.S. History and Sociology made up the Social Studies Department.

Mr. Watson agrees even if it isn't World History.

Future Citizens

Some lucky students even got Coach McClenny for U.S. History.

Sociology is never boring under Mr. Boykin.

COACH'S COMMENTS:

This year's team was young and inexperienced. We had to play a lot of sophomores. Aycock had the smallest team in the conference, but we played hard against much bigger and better foes all season. Taking all factors into consideration, our 1966 gridders did rather well. Dave McClenny

The backbone of school spirit, the varsity cheerleaders, led the fight song and other rousing yells at the bonfire, pep rallies, and games. The cheerleaders fired team spirit. It was up to them to rouse an indifferent crowd to action or to maintain the spirit of an exuberant one. They shared the joys of a victory and the sadness of a loss. No matter what, they were always on the job with a winning smile.

Falcon Baseballers

Coach Lewis talks to Don Garris.

We are proud of the performance of our baseball team this year. They are an extremely young group and only one of them will be lost to graduation. We feel that the experience they gained while posting an 8-8 record will be of great value to them in the coming years.

Dicky made a delightful girl.

Who says they are not really crying?

Beverly Kirby tells Dicky Tyn-dall there has to be some way to solve this crisis in "Genius Junior."

Vera Van Hoy played the part of a beatnik in the spring three-act play, "Room and Bored."

A cast of eleven girls and one boy presented "Romantic Conspiracy," a one act comedy.

Richard Wynn said, "You rang, madam?" Debbie replied sharply, "Why, yes, Johnson."

Everyone crowds around Mrs. Green, the drama coach, for last minute instructions before the play, "Great Smokies."

Falconettes and Falconaires Present "Tom Sawyer"

After many hours of hard labor, "The Adventures of Tom Sawyer" proved to be a huge success.

Will the real Cliff Gray stand?

Stan Matthews, next year's Student Council president addresses the student body on Senior Day.

One of the highlights of the day was a picnic.

That's right Melody, hold Brenda's hand and lead her out of the gym.

John, is Keith all the not be for Cliff is no

The procession out of the gymnasium was a sad occasion for many seniors.

The Graduating Class of 1967

A Time For Tears:

The Rev. Joseph Ingram of Stoney Creek FWB Church delivered the Baccalaureate sermon.

The class of 1967 wore white robes with blue tassels. The nine Honor Graduates wore gold tassels and honor cords so they might be distinguished for their scholastic achievement.

Baccalaureate Service was held May 28, 1967, at 8 P.M., and the Commencement Exercises were the following Thursday, June 1, at 8 P.M. in the high school gymnasium.

As 104 graduates marched from the gymnasium, the sentimental strains of the day marked the start of new life and "the end of the beginning".

The Aycock chorus performed during the worship service.

The recessional is a sad, slow march for Dale Smith.

Baccalaureate and Graduation

Mr. R. E. McNerny was the guest speaker for graduation.

Mr. Jones proudly presented Marsha Thorne the Danforth Award.

Tightly held in each graduate's hand is that prized "piece of paper" as Mike Fornecker leads them out of the gymnasium for the last time.

1967 Marshalls

The top ten students in the Junior class serve as marshalls at commencement exercises. They are Debbie Radford - Chief, Sandra Outland, Wanda Blow, Ann Jones, Shelia Goff, Mary Ellen Beamon, Bobby Strickland, Bryant Combs, Mike Fornecker, and Darlene Crumpler.

Mascots

The choosing of mascots was difficult from such a good selection.

The seniors chose Melody Wells and Hal Gurley as their mascots.

This is not the end.
It is not even the beginning of the end.

It is rather the end of the beginning.
